UBS DEFENDANTS' SUPPLEMENTAL REPLY MEMORANDUM OF LAW IN FURTHER SUPPORT OF THEIR MOTION TO DISMISS
BASED ON EXTRATERRITORIALITY AND IN OPPOSITION TO THE TRUSTEE'S MOTION FOR LEAVE TO AMEND THE COMPLAINT

Defendants UBS AG, UBS (Luxembourg) SA (“UBSL”), UBS Fund Services (Luxembourg) SA (“UBSFSL”), and UBS Third Party Management Company S.A. (“UBS ManCo”) (collectively, the “UBS Defendants”) respectfully submit this supplemental reply memorandum in further support of their motion to dismiss based on extraterritoriality and in opposition to the motion for leave to amend by plaintiff Irving H. Picard (the “Trustee”), as trustee for the liquidation of the business of Bernard L. Madoff Investment Securities LLC (“BLMIS”) and the estate of Bernard L. Madoff.

PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

The Trustee’s operative Complaint and proposed Amended Complaint (“Am. Compl.”)<sup>1</sup> do not sufficiently plead specific facts showing that the subsequent transfers allegedly received by the UBS Defendants are domestic under the standard set forth in Sec. Investor Prot. Corp. v. Bernard L. Madoff Inv. Sec. LLC, 513 B.R. 222 (S.D.N.Y. 2014) (the “Extraterritoriality Decision”). Each of the subsequent transfers that are the subject of the Trustee’s claims against the UBS Defendants was made by a foreign transferor to a foreign transferee, and took place entirely outside the United States. Accordingly, they are outside the application of section 550(a)(2) of the Bankruptcy Code.

<sup>1</sup> Although the Trustee denominates his proposed amended pleading as the “Amended Complaint,” it is, in fact, a proposed second amended complaint, and not something that he may file as of right. In July 2011, the Trustee withdrew all of the non-bankruptcy claims pled in the original Complaint, and District Judge McMahon (before whom the case was then pending) deemed that withdrawal “to be his amendment of right pursuant to Fed. R. Civ. P. 15.” Order, Picard v. UBS AG, No. 11-cv-4212 (CM) (S.D.N.Y. July 19, 2011), ECF No. 10; see also Roberts v. Cooperatieve Centrale Raiffeisen-Boeren Leenbank B.A., No. 09 Civ. 5271 (JGK), 2010 WL 23170, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 5, 2010) (“Generally, a plaintiff seeking to withdraw certain claims, but not all claims, against a defendant should do so pursuant to Rule 15 instead of pursuant to Rule 41, which allows for the plaintiff to dismiss ‘an action.’”).

As explained in the Reply Consolidated Supplemental Memorandum of Law in Support of Transferee Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss Based on Extraterritoriality (the “Consolidated Reply”), filed concurrently herewith and incorporated by reference herein, the Trustee wrongly focusses his attention on the (alleged) events leading to the transfers at issue, and the (alleged) reasons for the transfers, rather than on the only issue that matters – where the transfers occurred. On that critical issue, the Trustee is utterly silent, and either avoids pleading the relevant facts concerning the transfers to the UBS Defendants or ignores his own allegations that demonstrate the foreign nature of the transfers at issue. But Judge Rakoff’s decision is clear: The burden is on the Trustee to affirmatively plead facts showing that the transfers to the UBS Defendants took place in the United States, and the Trustee’s evasive silence on that issue thus requires dismissal. Extraterritoriality Decision, 513 B.R. at 232 n.4 (holding that “unless the Trustee can put forth specific facts suggesting a domestic transfer, his recovery actions seeking foreign transfers should be dismissed”).

Because both the Complaint and the proposed Amended Complaint fail to satisfy the Trustee’s burden, the Trustee’s claims against the UBS Defendants should be dismissed, and his motion for leave to amend should be denied.

ARGUMENT

THE TRANSFERS AT ISSUE OCCURRED OUTSIDE THE UNITED STATES

Each of UBSL, UBSFSL, and UBS ManCo (the “Luxembourg Entities”) is “a Luxembourg société anonyme” and has its “registered office” in Luxembourg. Am. Compl. ¶¶ 49-51. The Trustee does not – and could not – allege that any of them has any offices in the United States. The Luxembourg Entities are wholly owned subsidiaries of UBS AG, which is “a Swiss corporation with registered and principal offices” in Switzerland. Id. ¶ 48.

The Trustee seeks to recover approximately $16.8 million in subsequent transfers allegedly received by the UBS Defendants, consisting of:

- transfers made to the Luxembourg Entities in the form of service fees by Luxembourg Investment Fund-U.S. Equity Plus (“LIF”), a sub-fund of a Luxembourg corporation structured as a société d’investissement à capital variable, which had its registered office in Luxembourg (Am. Compl. ¶¶ 41-42); and
- transfers made to UBS AG by its wholly owned Luxembourg subsidiaries, UBSL and UBSFSL, in the form of dividends.

Id. ¶ 303. LIF allegedly received fraudulent transfers from BLMIS, a portion of which was allegedly subsequently transferred to the Luxembourg Entities. Id. ¶¶ 298, 303, 309.

Thus, the transfers were made by a foreign entity to foreign entities, and the Trustee alleges no facts – nor could he – that suggest that the transfers were either sent from or received in the United States. Indeed, the only hint that the Trustee gives as to the location of any of the relevant subsequent transfers is his allegation that, before transferring money to the Luxembourg Entities, LIF received funds from BLMIS at “LIF-USEP’s bank account at [UBSL].” Am. Compl. ¶ 274; see also Trustee’s Supplemental Memorandum of Law in Opposition to the UBS Defendants’ Motion to Dismiss Based on Extraterritoriality and in Further Support of Trustee’s Motion for Leave to Amend Complaints (“Trustee’s Suppl. Mem.”) at 7. It follows, therefore, that the subsequent transfers at issue here were made from that bank account – located in Luxembourg – to the Luxembourg Entities – also located in Luxembourg.<sup>2</sup> The transfers at issue

<sup>2</sup> The transfers allegedly received by UBS AG were even further removed from the United States, allegedly having been subsequently transferred by UBSL and UBSFSL in Luxembourg to their Swiss parent company, UBS AG. The Trustee alleges no facts that would enable tracing of these ordinary dividends from a subsidiary to its parent back to the

were, therefore, foreign transfers as specified in the Extraterritoriality Decision, and outside the scope of section 550 of the Bankruptcy Code.

Rather than addressing the location of the transfers themselves, the Trustee instead identifies a host of irrelevant (alleged) facts, none of which bears on where the transfers occurred. In fact, the Trustee's own words betray him, since he never argues that the transfers occurred in the United States, but only that the UBS Defendants received transfers "Based on Activity That Was Centered in the United States." Trustee's Suppl. Mem. at 3, 5 (emphasis added); see also id. at 8 (alleging receipt of fees "for Activity That Was Centered in the United States"). Where the activity underlying the transfers was "centered" is not the relevant issue under the Extraterritoriality Decision. As Judge Rakoff held, "the transaction being regulated by section 550(a)(2) is the transfer of property to a subsequent transferee, not the relationship of that property to a perhaps-distant debtor." 513 B.R. at 227.

The Consolidated Reply thoroughly explains why the factors relied upon by the Trustee fail to establish that the transfers at issue are domestic. Regarding the UBS Defendants specifically:

- It is irrelevant that UBS AG maintains offices in the United States (see Am. Compl. ¶ 48; Trustee's Suppl. Mem. at 4), where there is no allegation that the transfers at issue were received in those offices, as opposed to UBS AG's headquarters in Switzerland.

initial allegedly fraudulent transfers from BLMIS to LIF and, more importantly for present purposes, alleges no facts suggesting that these dividends were transferred in the United States.

- It is irrelevant that UBSL maintained a correspondent bank account at UBS AG's branch in Stamford, Connecticut, which was used to transmit dollar-denominated subscriptions and redemptions between BLMIS and LIF, and between LIF and its investors. See SAC ¶¶ 274, 286; Trustee's Suppl. Mem. at 5, 7. The Trustee makes no allegation that the Connecticut bank account was involved in the subsequent transfers from LIF to the Luxembourg Entities and, even if he had, Judge Rakoff has already held that the use of "correspondent banks in the United States to process dollar-denominated transfers" is not sufficient to make such transfers domestic for purposes of the extraterritoriality analysis. Extraterritoriality Decision, 513 B.R. at 228 n.1.
- It is irrelevant that the UBS Defendants had various communications and contacts with the United States in the course of providing services to LIF and that the Luxembourg Entities received fees for such services (see Trustee's Suppl. Mem. at 5-9), where those alleged U.S. communications and contacts were not part of the transfers themselves.

Put differently, the background of and reasons for the transfers – which are the only things the Trustee addresses – are irrelevant to the question of where the transfers occurred. As Judge Rakoff held, "[a]lthough the chain of transfers originated with Madoff Securities in New York, that fact is insufficient to make the recovery of these otherwise thoroughly foreign subsequent transfers into a domestic application of section 550(a)." Extraterritoriality Decision, 513 B.R. at 228.

Because the Trustee alleges no facts suggesting that the subsequent transfers themselves took place in the United States, the Complaint and the Amended Complaint fail to state a cognizable claim against the UBS Defendants under section 550 of the Bankruptcy Code.

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons and those stated in the Consolidated Reply, this Court should deny the Trustee's motion for leave to amend and grant the UBS Defendants' motion to dismiss.
